EARTHQUAKE VICTIMS MAY NUMBER OVER 100,000

Rome, January 15 .- Constantly shifting estimates based on reports that continue to trickle in, now place the death toll from Wednesday's earthquake at 20,000 and the injured at a number in excess of 35,000.

tims are still buried alive, imprisoned by the wreckage of their homes, while rescuers from every walk of life struggle desperately to dig them out.

The principal loss of life and probably the chief property damage appears to have been in Avezzano and the town of Sora, 15 miles away. Both these municipalities were destroyed and their population virtually wiped out. The latest reports place the number of dead in Avezzano at 10,000 and in Sora at 4,000. In at least 60 other towns affected, more than 6,000 have been killed. From these towns came the majority of the injure! In Avez-

THE PENALTY FOR BREAKING PARTY PLEDGES.

A feature of the recent election whereby the party of protection "came back" so satisfactorily in its representation in Congress, is the defeat of 57 Congressmen at the polls who voted against free tolls for our coastwise fleet in the Panama canal last spring, and not all the Federal patronage that these representatives were given to distribute as a result of their action was able to convince their constituents whom they had betrayed that they should be returned to Washington. In speaking of President Wilson's demand for this legislation, the Marine Journal last June predicted that the President and his party would pay at the polls in November, which has now been verified. In the northern states 111 members voted against their party's platform, which had declared in favor of free tolls for American ships. Now that the people have spoken, the Congressmen that have been elected to stay at home will doubtless have time to think over what it means to repudiate party pledges made to their constituents.-Marine Journal.

A CORDIAL WELCOME TO THE PASTURE OF WORRY.

We neglected last week to make a note of the fact that Mr. Hal C. Curran had bought a half interest in The Maysville Public Ledger, owned by les brother, Mr. Arthur F. Curran. The two brothers are natives of Dover, both are wide-awake business men and forcible writers, and will no doubt make The Ledger more powerful than ever. Mr, Arthur F. Curran started his newspaper career in Dover as proprietor of the Dover News, and later the Messenger. As a partner in The Ledger is Hal's first venture in the field of journalism, and we old fellers who have worn the editorial chair smooth, meet and welcome with outstretched hand the brilliant young man who has the grit to tackle such a large bunch of trouble and vexation that is always found scattered along the pathway of an editor. ELECTORAL FATIGUE.

"Electoral fatigue" is the happy phrase of ex-Mayor Matthews of Boston to apply to the revolt of voters against being asked to go to the polls so frequently. Something of this "tired feeling" must enter into the explanation of such a result as the rejection of all the ten constitutional amendments submitted to the people of Wisconsin on November 3, says the New York Evening Post. The official figures are now published and show the overwhelming nature of the defeat. By majorities ranging from 56,000 to 107,000 the Wisconsin electors showed that they would not accept La-Follette's plans to round out the "Wisconsin idea" to perfection. The initiative and referendum, state insurance, the recall of elective officials, except judges, and the rest all went down. All told, it is a blow to La Follette harder than his loss of a Governor and United States Senator. Of course, other causes contributed. In the general slump of Progressive notions, Wisconsin was bound to share. But over and above this there must have been a pervasive weariness with forever tinkering with the laws and the constitution. There is such a thing as working the voters too hard; and the political leader who does not take warning and give the people a rest will himself be given a rest.

So Declares A. D. Williams, Chief Highway Engineer of West Virgina, Who Says Men's Health Would Also Benefit.

Both the state and the prisoners would be better off if prison labor were employed on the Kentucky highways, was the statement of A. D. Williams, Chief Road Engineer of West Virginia. in an address delivered before the short ourse in Highway Engineering at State University, Lexington,

Mr. Williams addressed a gathering of about 70 men in one of the lecture rooms in the Civil Engineering build ing, and gave a minute analysis of the results of the plan of using convict abor on roadways in several states, strongly advising the adoption of the plan in Kentucky.

He said one of the defects of the prison system as employed in this state was the lack of fresh air for the prisoners and the resulting bad health of the men. He said work on the state roads would not only give the men a chance to work in the fresh air, but would bring the highways up to the highest point of efficiency, and effect a great saving to the good roads depart-

OPENING OF DETROIT AUTO SHOW

Detroit, Mich., January 16 .- Michi gan's premier position as an automo bile manufacturing state is strikingly illustrated in the many varieties of "Michigan made" cars on exhibition at the annual show of the Detroit Automobile Dealers' Association. The show had its formal opening today and will be continued through the coming week. For the first time in the his tery of the Detroit shows the truck department has been made a prominent feature of the exhibition. In the display of new truck models there are pleasures than I do. NEWS FULECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, January 16 .- The Federal Commission on Industrial Relations is scheduled to meet in New York Monday to begin its much-discussed investigation into the nature and workings of the Rockefeller, Carnegie, Russell Sage and other great charitable and benevolent foundations.

"Greater prosperity through greater foreign trade'' is the objective of the second National Foreign Trade Convention, which is to meet in St. Louis Thursday for a two-day session. Three thousand commercial and industrial organizations, firms and individuals engaged in foreign trade, have been in vited to send delegates. The convention will eliminate generalities and concentrate on commercial problems created by the European war and those which will confront American foreign traders when peace is restored.

With something of the same objects view a foreign banking conference has been called to meet in Chicago Wednesday under the auspices of the Illinois Bankers' Association. At this onference plans will be discussed for stablishing banks or branches in South America that will represent the comercial and financial interests of the niddle west.

Representatives of the fruit grow ng interests of the Pacific northwest ere to meet in Seattle Saturday to confer on plans for co-operation in marketing their products and also for the establishment of factories in all districts in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana to manufacture by-prolucts of surplus fruits and vegetables. A conference of the board of governors of the Farm Mortgage Bankers' Asociation is to be held in Chicago Friday. It is expected that the deliberations will result in defining the position of the association on the matter of rural credits.

Other meetings scheduled for the week include the annual Tuskegee Ne gro Conference, the annual meeting of the Union of American Hebrew Convention of the National Wholesale Dry annual convention of the Independent Buffalo; At the last named meeting for mer President William H. Taft will be the principal speaker.

The early part of the week will se James E Ferguson in Texas, Charles Henderson in Alabama, and Richard I Manning in South Carolina.

The much-discussed case of Leo M. Frank, the Young Atlantan convicted Court of the United States on Monday, when Attorney General Grice of Geor gie will present a motion for an early nearing and decision on the petitio of Frank's counsel for a new trial.

"UNDERGROUND RAILWAY"

Death Calls John T. Rankin, Son of Noted Ripley Abolitionist, Who Was a Power In Freeing the Negro.

The Greensburg (Ind.) News of January 1, says:

Uncle John T. Rankin, one of Deca tur county's most widely known citi. Sold Friday On Local Market $46 Per zens, died at 9 o'clock Monday night, December 29, at his home four miles east of town, known as Rankin's Crossing. The end was due to cancer from which he had been a sufferer for more than a year.

was born in Ripley, O. His younger life Home set a new record mark when it was spent in Ohio, and being strongly opposed to slavery he took a prominent part in the workings of the "underground railway," assisting in getting the fleeing colored people across the Buckeye state into Canada, Mr. Rankin had a personal acquaintance with Eliza and in fact with nearly all the characters that appear in Harriet Bee-Gr Stowe's immortal work, "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

On coming to Indiana and settling in Decatur county, Mr. Rankin took up agricultural work and all through the following years has been thus engaged until such time when he was physically unable to do so.

Mr. Rankin was always a Republican in politics and a number of years ago was the farmers' candidate for Congress in the old Fourth District, but was defeated, though he made a very cred itable race. He was a man of culture, firm in his friendships and by his personal magnetism, universally admired and esteemed.
